

Daphné Pomerleau-Normandin

Associate

Daphné Pomerleau-Normandin is a member of the Litigation and Conflict Resolution group and focuses her practice on commercial and civil litigation.

Daphné joined Lavery in 2021 as a student and completed her internship for the Bar at the firm in 2022. During her law studies, Daphne worked as a research assistant in both constitutional and criminal law. Involved in her community, she volunteered for Pro Bono Students Canada and was an intern at the Mile End Legal Clinic. Daphne also completed an intern with the judiciary of the Superior Court of Québec.

Before beginning her law studies, Daphne obtained a bachelor's degree in political science as well as a master's degree in public administration from Concordia University. Upon graduating, she joined the public service as a policy analyst at the Public health agency of Canada.

Professional and community activities

- Student intern, Superior court of Québec judiciary, 2020-2021
- Student intern, Mile End Legal Clinic, 2019-2020
- Volunteer, Pro Bono Students Canada, 2018-2019

Distinctions

- Pierrette Rayle academic excellence scholarship, 2018

Education

- LL.B., Université de Montréal, 2021
- M.A., Public Administration, Concordia University, 2018
- B.A., Political Science, Concordia University, 2016