Working as an intern at a law firm prepares you for your role as a lawyer. At Lavery, we understand this. That's why we offer a stimulating work environment with exceptional guidance tailored to your goals.

Because we believe in succession, our main commitments are to:

1. Provide personalized support and an all-inclusive professional development program.
2. Use all the tools necessary to help our interns gain a foothold in the firm and reach their full potential.

An internship at Lavery is an opportunity to work in the largest independent law firm in Quebec and serve a national and international clientele in major cases while acting with agility and doing things differently.

We make every effort to entrust you with real responsibilities during your internship.

We guide you to take on a variety of challenges and make quick progress.
